FORT LAUDERDALE, FL (December 1, 2009) – The Experts, Inc. announced today their expansion in to the Balkans and their new office in Skopje, Macedonia. Macedonia was once part of the former Yugoslavia and is a strong partner to the US. With bids in to become part of the European Union and a member of NATO, The Republic of Macedonia has a lot to look forward to in terms of economic growth. The Experts have already been working with the US Army, and US State Department in the region, and look forward to having the ability to represent local labor in the country as well as supporting the local ministries and global organizations already positioned with in the Balkans and throughout Eastern Europe.

The office and regional business development is being headed up by Darko Georgievski. “Mr. Georgievski’s strong relationships and experience throughout Eastern Europe will prove to be a successful combination for The Experts Balkans,” stated David Hoshko, Vice President of Business Development. Mr. Georgievski’s current initiatives are construction and infrastructure, physical security, telecommunications, and communication modernization efforts.

“We are excited about our expansion in to Eastern Europe,” stated David Hoshko. “This is the last remaining puzzle piece for all of Europe, and we will be in a great position as a first responder to the EU and NATO financing and projects that will be granted to the country. Macedonia is a strong partner to the US as well, currently receiving State Department Financing through FMS within several different ministries,” he continued.

“The Experts have been focusing on Eastern Europe due to the highly skilled and educated talent that resides there, yet there remains a cost effective solution in terms of in-shoring and off-shoring alike. I see great potential in the Balkans in terms of foreign investment, and we are optimistic about weaving our methodologies in to the local labor resources as a way to stay competitive in the region overall,” added Mr. Hoshko.
